Stronger together at BAU 2025

Huga and Lebo present a spectacular range of new internal doors

At BAU 2025, the world's leading trade fair in Munich, visitors will be treated to a special highlight: door manufacturer Huga and its sister company Lebo will be presenting their latest internal doors under the motto “Stronger together”. At their joint exhibition stand 518 in hall B4, visitors will have the opportunity to enjoy a colourful display of internal doors ranging from modern to classic designs.

At the joint exhibition stand, a wide range of internal doors will be on display, from modern, minimalist designs to classically elegant models, all produced in close cooperation with sister company Lebo. “Stronger together” is the motto of the two companies. “Our motto this year, “Stronger together”, reflects our close cooperation with our sister company Lebo. Together, we want to combine our expertise and offer visitors at the trade fair a wide variety of internal doors. By joining forces, we can optimise our skills and meet our customers' needs,” explains Christoph Schwientek, sales manager at Huga and Lebo.

At the 390 m² joint stand, Huga and Lebo will be presenting a range of new internal doors that set new standards both in terms of design and functionality. The range includes simple, modern internal doors that are characterised by their clear lines, as well as complex classic models that use embellishments to set accents. Not only will numerous further developments be presented, but also completely new ranges of internal doors.

A large number of visitors are expected at stand 518 in hall B4. The combination of high-quality design, innovative technology and customised solutions is likely to be of particular interest to architects and planners. Private building owners will also find a wide selection of doors in different styles here. For anyone looking for inspiration and new ideas for internal doors, the joint Huga and Lebo stand gives visitors the opportunity to discover the latest models, receive personalised advice and see the doors for themselves. "In addition to the exhibition of our products, we warmly invite visitors to attend personal consultations. We are looking forward to welcoming a large number of enthusiastic visitors, to carrying out exciting discussions and to getting to know new contacts," says Christoph Schwientek.
